FreeFolderIcon allows you to change the icon of any folder in just a few steps. It's built on a simple and clean interface, with all the tools in a single window and target both beginners and advanced users. You can also set the icons number, name, type and hover tooltip from the "Options" tab. If you're not the kind of user who wants to tweak the app as much as possible and you're okay with the standard settings, the "Change Icon" should be enough for you. Just pick the folder whose icon you want to change, select a new icon, write down a tooltip and you're done. FreeFolderIcon comes with multiple built-in icon sets, but it also gives users the options to add new ones by loading icon libraries and iColorFolders themes. If you however have a look in the "Options" tab, you can find dedicated settings to display icon names or numbers in context menu and configure the way you can install icons. There are two options at your disposal, so you can choose between extracting icons from icl-themes to a single file and copy it to the customize folder or only make a link to the icl-theme and do not create any icons. As you may guess by reading its name, FreeFolderIcon is fully portable, so it's basically enough to copy all its files on a removable drive and use it on the go without the need for prior installation. All things considered, FreeFolderIcon is quite a handy piece of software, but don't forget to launch it with administrator privileges on Windows 7 workstations. It needs just basic computer knowledge, so it can be safely installed by any user category. FEATURES: Multiple Built-in Icon Sets: - Built-in default icon sets (Free, Default, Riker's, Explorers, Sierra, TotalFinder, Portable, etc...), iColorFolders theme, and IconMasters library (Free). - Custom icon sets can be added by simply installing them on the program and then removing the default ones.
