designed it and he has released it to the public. 5. How can I donate for its continued development? I am not asking for donations. You can become its developer and update it. Just send me a mail at yukac@yahoo.com to get my contact information. Here's the most modified (even own) version of ScreenSaver. Can play classic game-flash movies as a background (you can also play those VCDs and BDMV's by specifying format as ASIO) or can function as standard game-flash player (thinks similar to PowerScreen). It also supports playing classic wma-formats and online streams from your preferred stream hosts. PS: A problem in my previous version was that Sound was also played when new game-flash came up! Now this is not happening anymore. Optical Sound Recorder is freeware software developed by James Campbell. After our trial and test, the software was found to be official, secure and free. Here is the official description for Optical Sound Recorder:

Optical Sound Recorder is an easy-to-use, multitrack audio recording program. It can record from any device that plays audio including: optical disks, CD/DVD-Audio, Flash Memory, webcam, you-name-it. You can even easily record MP3s into your hard drive with the use of this utility. You can record from any number of sources simultaneously (as long as they play audio and do not block the audio ports) and accurately track their audio volumes (volume control, equalizers, EQ bands, etc.) with great accuracy. 09e8f5149f
